

Red-light cameras working again in Marysville

By Eric Vodden/ evodden@appealdemocrat.com | Posted: Friday, June 26, 2015 12:11 am

Nearly a year after Caltrans finished its $46.5 million roadway reconstruction project in Marysville, most of the city's dreaded red-light cameras are back and operating.

Still to be resolved is the reinstallation of two cameras at the busy Ninth and E streets intersection, which is still awaiting final approval from Caltrans, City Services Director David Lamon said.